

PHINIA announces new General Manager of North American aftermarket business

- PHINIA appoints automotive veteran Russell Stebbins as General Manager, North American aftermarket
- Mr. Stebbins to bring a wealth of OES and independent aftermarket experience to the North America team

Auburn Hills, Michigan, June 28, 2024 – PHINIA Inc. (NYSE:PHIN), a leader in premium fuel systems, electrical systems, and aftermarket parts, today announced that it has appointed Russell Stebbins as General Manager of the North American aftermarket business.

In his newly appointed role, Mr. Stebbins will lead the North American aftermarket team and develop sales to independent aftermarket and original equipment supplier (OES) customers, executing PHINIA’s vision and value proposition to customers across the region.

Mr. Stebbins, joins PHINIA with over 30 years of experience in the global automotive industry. His career includes stints at renowned tier-1 suppliers such as TRW, Lumileds (Phillips), Akebono, and, most recently, Sensata Technologies. At Sensata, he served as the general manager of the global auto aftermarket business and senior director for the global aftermarket business unit, showcasing his deep understanding of the industry.

“Russell has a proven track record for increasing revenue and executing growth strategies for OE, OES and independent aftermarket companies,” said Neil Fryer, VP and General Manager of PHINIA’s global aftermarket business. “With his extensive career background, he has the know-how to excel in this role through sales, category management, marketing, remanufacturing, and more.”
